

Tourism section

Welcome to Palestine , the cradle of Civilization, where West meets East, North meets South and where Judaism, Christianity and Islam took form. We welcome you in Palestine and hope that you enjoy our cultural richness, deeply compelling history and legendary hospitality. Over the centuries millions of people have come to visit this beautiful Holy Land and we are glad to welcome you among them.

May your stay in Palestine be filled with joyful days, nights and a lifetime of wonderful memories. Climate Situated in the Mediterranean, Palestine has a temperate sea climate. April and May bring some of the most beautiful wildflowers in the world. Wild poppies, jonquils, irises, and other vibrant species paint the hillsides with color during the short spring season. The rainy season in Palestine is between November and April. Occasionally it snows in Palestine but it doesn't stay long. To escape the cool weather in the winter season, you can go to Jericho, which is situated near the Dead Sea. Because of the wonderfully low humidity, the air in Palestine is dry. It is always a good idea to carry a bottle of water while hiking or walking during the day. In the summer months the night desert temperatures can get cool, so it is advisable to carry a lightweight jacket or sweater for the evenings.

Telepherique and Sultan Tourist Center

Frosty

{youtube}BUCYzQnok{/youtube}